Delivery and Learning Experience

The programme is delivered entirely online and designed to fit around the demands of working professionals. Students experience:

- Structured Online Modules — Each module features a clear study plan and weekly milestones within an eight-week cycle.
- Engaging Digital Materials — Content includes readings, multimedia elements, and formative assessments, all professionally developed.
- Applied Assignments — Tasks mirror real-world monitoring and evaluation scenarios, reinforcing practical learning.
- Self-Paced Study — Fully asynchronous format enables learners to study at times that suit their personal and professional commitments.
- Facilitator Feedback and Support — Regular guidance and constructive feedback are provided through online learning platforms to support progress and understanding.

This balanced approach ensures that students gain both theoretical understanding and practical abilities in Monitoring and Evaluation, in a flexible yet rigorous learning environment.

Graduate Opportunities

Graduates of this programme will be able to:

- Design and implement robust monitoring and evaluation systems across the project lifecycle
- Uphold data quality standards and report monitoring data clearly for decision-making
- Plan, manage and conduct evaluations with a strong emphasis on ethics and methodology
- Utilise evaluation results effectively to inform strategy and organisational improvement
- Progress into roles such as M&E officer, programme manager, data analyst or consultant within development, health, education, and government sectors

This qualification opens doors to roles of increased responsibility, where evidence-based decision-making is critical.
