Advanced Diploma in Project Management

Programme Description

The Advanced Diploma in Project Management equips you to manage low- to medium-level projects from initiation through to close-out. You will gain practical competence in project planning and delivery, budgeting and cost management, procurement, quality assurance, resource coordination and risk management. The programme also develops your ability to use quantitative and statistical methods for better decision-making, supported by a strong foundation in research methodology and ethics, so you can deliver projects with credibility, control and confidence.

You will learn

- Apply project management principles, processes, tools and techniques to deliver projects effectively.
- Develop and control project budgets, funding approaches and cost risk across the project lifecycle.
- Plan and manage procurement and contracts, including solicitation, source selection and close-out.
- Manage project quality, resources, stakeholders and communication in multi-disciplinary environments.
- Use statistical and research methods (ethically) to analyse project problems and support decisions.
